Young Living's Thieves Waterless Hand Purifier Featured on ABC's The View

Lehi, UT—On the April 22, 2008, Earth Day episode of ABC's The View, environmental activist, best-selling author, and Young Living customer Deirdre Imus was featured in a segment about how parents can help their children grow up green—which includes using Young Living products.

Imus named Young Living's Thieves® Waterless Hand Purifier as one of her recommended "greening" products, and The View co-hosts Whoopi Goldberg and Elizabeth Hasselbeck sampled the product on air. Imus explained that among other products many parents often use, most hand sanitizers are not healthy because of their alcohol content. Young Living's Thieves hand purifier, however, contains only natural ingredients, and is therefore a better alternative.

In Imus' latest work, Growing Up Green: Baby and Child Care, the author also recommends multiple other Young Living products and each audience member received a free copy of the book.
